ning of his engineers to insure that work on the project will get underway with a minimum of delay after funds are approved for the initial phase of construction. A bill providing $2.5 million to start the $46-million project is on President Johnson's desk awaiting signature.

Bids Call Plans Are All Geared

Engineer Reveals Advance Planning At Warsaw Meet

By W. D. Hill

BIDS CALL for the first phase of work on the Kaysinger Dam project may be made as early as Aug. 24, providing President Johnson signs the bill authorizing the first $2.5 million in funds on the $46-million project.

This was revealed by Col. Miles L. Wachendorf, district engineer, Army Corps of Engineers, Kansas City, at a meeting Tuesday night at Warsaw.

The bill is on President Johnson's desk and provides $1,500,000 for initial work on the dam and $1,000,000 for highway relocation.

Col. Wachendorf said bids would be opened sometime in September and if all else goes well construction could start between Oct. 1 and Oct. 15. Plans, he said, are to get the first phase of work underway this fall.

Have Rights of Entry

Col. Wachendorf said rights of entry had already been obtained from landowners so that little delay would be necessary after approval of funds. He suggested that the group plan to hold a ceremony on a firm date and go ahead with plans and that an appearance by President Lyndon Johnson be taken into consideration but that plans not be delayed if the president is unable to be present.

LBJ Odds 1 to 3

Some 18 west-central Missouri communities were represented at the planning meeting and heard Lew Paramore, vice president of the Mississippi Valley Association, say that the odds of President Johnson taking part in the groundbreaking ceremonies, now planned for October, are now one to three. His information, he said, had been gained through the office of Senator Stuart Symington.

Paramore said that Johnson's (Please turn to page 8, column 2)

Syncom Soars Toward Goal

'Olympic Star' Facing Some Complex Hurdles

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Syncom 3 communications satellite, intended to relay television pictures of the October Olympic Games in Japan quickly to North America and Europe, rocketed into a preliminary orbit today en route to a planned stationary post high above the Pacific Ocean.

Officials were cheered by the early success of the mission. But the "Olympic Star" satellite must execute a number of complex maneuvers in the next 12 days to shift its orbit and reach its goal as the world's first truly synchronous — stationary — satellite.

While Syncom 3 is a research vehicle and television is not its main job, successful intercontinental transmission of Olympic pictures would be the most dramatic performance so far by communications satellites.

U.S., Japanese, Canadian and European interests plan to spend nearly $1 million to demonstrate Olympic television capability with Syncom 3. Practically none of the transmission will be live, primarily because of time differences, and ironically, Canadian and European viewers probably will see more of the film relayed by Syncom 3 than will those in the United States.

The three-stage TAD—thrust augmented Delta — rocket barreled away from Cape Kennedy at 7:15 a.m. (EST) to propel the drum-shaped satellite into the "transfer" orbit — a great egg-shaped route ranging from 695 to 23,675 miles above the earth and requiring 11 hours, 35 minutes for each pass.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported 30 minutes after launching that all three rocket stages had performed as planned and the 145-pound package of communications instruments was on course and sending strong signals.

Syncom 3's next hurdle will be reached about 28 hours after launching—about 11 a.m. Thursday—when it reaches the 23,675-mile-high point of its orbit for the third time. Then a small rocket is to be fired by ground command to jockey the satellite out of its widening transfer path into a circular orbit about 23,675 miles up.

This is to occur above Sumatra. Then ground monitors, commanding small payload jets by radio, plan to guide Syncom 3 delicately for more than 10 days to the desired mid-Pacific position. The jets are to arrest it there.

DeLong Plant Production Start Near

Steel Fabrication Firm Will Employ 35-50 Workmen

Workmen and supervisory personnel for DeLong's, Inc. of Jefferson City have tooling up preparations just about complete and plan a production start on a small scale Monday at their new subsidiary steel fabrication plant here.

DeLong's recently purchased a 100 x 312 foot building, two smaller structures and five acres for storage of raw and finished material from the Missouri-Pacific Railroad and are headquartered at this location on the northeast corner of the railroad shopgrounds just off Harding Street.

Harvey Rollins, plant manager, said the firm will train a few men each week, adding personnel as production steps up. F. Joe DeLong, president of the firm, said previously that the plant will employ 35 to 50 workmen at peak production.

Rollins, a 14-year veteran with the DeLong firm, explained the plant will produce long span steel joists for larger building construction such as gymnasiums, schools and supermarkets. Steel arrives at the plant in 40-foot lengths, is pre-cut and welded to order for the specific job.

DeLong's is moving the joist fabrication operation to Sedalia in order to provide space for expansion of bridge and structural steel facilities at the Jefferson City plant.

"All of this type of work will be brought here," Rollins said. "We expect to have the entire operation here in the next 60 days. We produced over 7,000 joists last year at Jefferson City and we anticipate doubling that production here."

Welders will work on the steel joists in assembly line manner and after the pieces are completed they will be rolled out the building and back in the other side to a dip vat where they receive a coating of oxide (Please turn to page 8, col. 4)

'For Support of Rebellion'

Tshombe to Oust 'Aliens' In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Moïse Tshombe's government announced today all citizens of two neighboring nations who are in the Congo will be expelled on the ground their governments are aiding a Communist-backed rebellion among his people.

The nations are the Congo Republic (Brazzaville) on the north and the kingdom of Burundi on the east. A communiqué said the Brazzaville government is harboring Congolese responsible for massacres, pillage and destruction while Burundi is giving material and moral support to the rebels.

It was not known how many people would be affected. But several thousand residents of Brazzaville work in Leopoldville. Only the Congo River separates the two capitals. It's a 20-minute ferry run.

Tshombe said personal belongings of those expelled will be held until Brazzaville authorities hand back $300,000.

FCC Equal Time Rule Suspended

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats have relieved President Johnson of the burden of deciding whether to debate Sen. Barry Goldwater in a radio-television campaign confrontation.

They locked horns with Republicans over the issue of who is chicken.

By a 44-41 vote the Senate tabled Tuesday night — and thus killed — legislation to suspend equal time provisions of the Communications Act.

The measure was similar to the one which paved the way for Kennedy-Nixon debates in 1960. Twelve Democrats joined 29 Republicans in opposing the tabling. All the 44 votes to kill were cast by Democrats.

Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., charged that it was "very evident some influence has been ordered from higher up to junk this bill because of the exigencies of this campaign."

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., the keynote speaker for the Democratic National Convention opening Monday, voted against tabling the compromise measure which he had supported.

Pastore said Goldwater had once declared on a television program the president of the United States should not be placed in the position of debating an opponent.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (P) — The House took up today a bill that would strip the federal courts of power to deal with apportionment of seats in state legislatures.

On a 241-148 roll call vote the bill was brought under discussion.

The vote was a sure indication of sentiment in favor of it, and its passage was expected later in the day.

LBJ Wealth Placed At $3.5 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — An accounting firm hired at the direction of President Johnson reported today that the Johnson family fortune totals $3,484,098.

The firm of Haskins & Sells said the President and Mrs. Johnson and their two daughters, Lynda Bird and Luci Baines, had total assets of $3,682,770 as of July 31.

On the same date, the family had liabilities of $198,672, which reduced their net worth to $3,484,098.

The accounting firm said President Johnson's assets amounted to $477,417 and his liabilities were $99,336.

The detailed statistical table made it evident that most of the Johnson wealth is held in the name of the First Lady, Mrs. Johnson's assets were said to total $2,225,634 with liabilities of $99,336.

This gave Mrs. Johnson a net worth of $2,126,298 compared with $378,081 for the chief executive.

Lynda Bird Johnson's assets were put at $490,141. Those of her sister Luci Baines were given as $489,578.

The table listed no liabilities for either of the daughters.

During recent months, published estimates of the size of the Johnson fortune have ranged from about $4 million to $14 million.

It seemed apparent that much of this broad spread could be accounted for by using different methods of estimating the Johnson wealth.

If wealth is figured on the book value of securities held, it can conceivably be many times lower than if figured on the basis of the current market value of the same securities.

Lightning Sets Back Orbital Ride

Gemini Launching Pad Damaged By Electrical Storm

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A series of lightning bolts which caused considerable damage on the Project Gemini launching pad apparently has erased any possibility of a two-man orbital flight this year.

Officials said the mishap probably means that astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young will have to wait until early 1965 to make the first tandem flight. They were to take a three-orbit, five-hour space ride in mid-December.

As an electrical storm swept over Cape Kennedy Monday night, several lightning bolts struck the Gemini launching complex. They damaged systems in a Titan 2 rocket on the pad and in the ground support equipment.

It was the first recorded incidence of lightning damage to a rocket in the 14-year history of the cape. All rocket gantries here are supposed to be lightning-proof.

The Titan 2 was being groomed to boost a fully equipped spacecraft, which was not on the pad, on a 2,000-mile ballistic flight to test all systems, the re-entry protective heat shield and recovery techniques.

The launching, the final unmanned shot before the Grissom-Young flight, had been scheduled for Oct. 6.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Tuesday, "The effect on the launch date is not known at this time. But some equipment replacement, launch complex reevaluation and systems retest will be required."

"The over-all effect of this condition may result in a delay of the first manned flight into next year," the agency said.

A spokesman said the lightning caused no visible damage — that apparently all of it took the form of short-circuits and other electrical-type damage to delicate components.

Housing Bill to LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress sent to President Johnson today a compromise $1,115,000,000 housing bill to extend urban renewal, low-rent public housing and other major programs for a year.

The measure, approved in final form in the Senate by a voice vote and in the House by a 309-70 roll-call, was one of Johnson's "must" bills for the 1964 session.

County Committees Elect Officers

Henry Salveter Re-elected For Fourth Term

The Pettis County Democratic Central Committee re-elected unanimously Henry C. Salveter to his fourth terms as county chairman at a meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Laura L. Fischer, wife of B. A. Fischer, 1639 Country Club, was re-elected as vice-chairman of the committee. As vice-chairman, Mrs. Fischer will be in charge of the Democratic headquarters.

Mrs. Vivian Warren, wife of Ike Warren, 1009 West Third, was re-elected secretary of the committee.

W. C. Ream, 1611 West Third, was re-elected treasurer of the committee.

Salveter, 1212 South Barrett, is widely known in Missouri and served several terms as prosecuting attorney in the 1930's. At present he is executive vice-president and trust officer for the Third National Bank.

S. J. Timbrious, committee-man from the First Ward, nominated Salveter for re-election. After his election Salveter told

Miss Hazel Palmer Choice of GOP For Chairmanship

Pettis County Republicans named Miss Hazel Palmer, one of Sedalia's best known GOP personalities, as their county chairman Tuesday afternoon, then took a verbal potshot at the Democrats who they blamed for a last minute switch in meeting places.

Miss Palmer, who made an unsuccessful bid for a senate seat against Stuart Symington in 1958, has been widely active in Republican ranks since a young girl and noted in making her acceptance that she had served as county chairman 22 years ago.

"I could say this is too much of a sacrifice," Miss Palmer told the approximately 25 Republican faithful in attendance. "But today this nation faces a crisis and no place in the Republican party is too small or too trivial to refuse. I will accept the chairmanship."

"We're going to put life into the Republican party of Pettis County," she vowed. Miss Palmer was the only nominee for the county GOP post and was named by acclamation.

Other officers chosen were Paul Steinkuhler, LaMonte, vice chairman; Mrs. Fred Rose, re-elected secretary; and E. G. Stumpf, re-elected treasurer.

Grand Old Party's Big Overhaul

By ALLAN NEVINS
Written for Associated Press Press

Not in more than 40 years, or since the Progressive revolt of 1912, has so sharp a break occurred in the ranks of a major party as that in San Francisco when the Republicans nominated Barry Goldwater.

Parties always make heroic efforts to avoid a schism. To maintain unity, they sometimes rally around the platform at the expense of the candidate, as Republicans did when the frigid and unpopular Benjamin Harrison got himself renominated in 1892. Conversely, they sometimes rally around the candidate and ignore the party doctrines. "We support McClellan and spit upon the platform," said Democrats in 1864.

But when the San Francisco gathering ended, the two nominees, the platform, and the campaign organization had been given absolute conformity. They spelled just one word, conservatism.

Some observers saw a sharp reversal of the old Republican position on many issues. The Republican party has, until now, never had its underlying philosophy of government heavily assailed or shaken. Some critics think it has been all too immobile.

The great issues of presidential campaigns, it should be emphasized, are seldom made by party councils or platforms. They are usually generated by what Jefferson called the course of human events, and the groundswells of public sentiment to which these events give rise.

Nevertheless, dynamic leaders have sometimes created new issues, as the history of all the strong presidents from Andrew Jackson shows.

The first drastic change came in the course of the Republican party was a direct response to events and public sentiment. For this change we must go back to Grant's second administration. It then became plain that the carpetbag governments in the South were full of corruption, waste, and incompetence, and that the use of troops to keep some of them in power was intolerable. In 1874 the Republicans lost the House. In 1876 they clung to the presidency by a bargain with Southern leaders. The result was that the Republican party totally abandoned the radical reconstruction policies it had supported since the war, and charted a new course based on acceptance of white supremacy in the South.

In 1876 the Republican platform had been unequivocal. It declared: "The permanent pacification of the southern section of the Union, and the complete protection of all its citizens in the free enjoyment of all their rights, is a duty to which the Republican party stands sacredly pledged."

How utterly this pledge was forgotten in 1880! That year the platform had some face-saving phrases about the Constitution and the faithful performance of all promises made to citizens.

A more nearly silent change of the Republican course, but equally decisive and important, took place in the 1940s.

In 1940 the platform and the speeches of Wendell Willkie followed much the line laid down by Landon. They admitted that New Deal objectives had merit, but condemned New Deal methods as outrageous. This time the Democrats took 449 electoral votes, and the Republicans 82. In 1944 the Republican party realized that denunciation of the New Deal was more perilous than ever. The war had brought back nearly full employment. The chief social welfare measures were highly popular. With a psychology of European victory enveloping the contest, the party tacitly but decisively gave up its main positions. And when later Republican president Eisenhower was elected, it declared flatly: "We shall not turn the clock back."

At the beginning of 1945 the Republican party still apparently clung to the isolationism of the 1920s and 1930s. It had turned away from Wendell Willkie's ideas of "one world." When the Republican national chairman appointed an advisory committee to draw up a peace-time program, he left Willkie off the list.

In this situation Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan made a speech on January 10, 1945, which swung the party toward a realistic new course. He boldly repudiated isolationism, summoned America to the tasks of world leadership, and declared that he stood for "maximum American cooperation . . . to make the basic idea of Dumbarton Oaks succeed. His endorsement of the principle of the United Nations made a tremendous sensation.

The next Republican convention, meeting in Philadelphia in 1948, ratified his stand.

Thereafter Vandenberg continued laboring to throw the party behind the United Nations, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and a bipartisan approach to sensitive areas of foreign affairs. When Republican senators in July 1949 voted 32 to 11 for the NATO pact, the new party position was firmly assured. This historic change of Republican front strengthened the whole free world.

But not once in all these years did the basic philosophy of the Republican party change.

As the party gradually embraced the welfare state program, and yet lost election after election, some leaders believed that the shifting balance of groups had gone too far in the liberal direction. Closer adherence to the Simon-pure conservatism of Hoover's day, they argued would fortify the organization. They condemned the Wilke-Dewey left-of-middle feud.

This movement came to a climax with Robert A. Taft's drive for the presidential nomination in 1952. He was by no means a reactionary. He had supported public housing and slum clearance, he believed in Social Security and his Taft-Hartley Act had merely tried to establish a proper balance between the power of labor and the power of capital.

But "Mr. Republican" stood for a re-establishment of Republican orthodoxy. By this he meant cautious financial measures, economy, a reduction of federal activity inside state spheres, and less generosity abroad.

The rock on which Taft's conservative movement split was Eisenhower's conviction that his policies would endanger the allied harmony that Eisenhower had done so much to create.

This Republican decision in 1952 was resented by the conservatives, including such Taft men as Joe Martin and Everett Dirksen.

Does Goldwater's conquest of the party in San Francisco represent more than a victorious revival of Taft's conservative movement of 1952? Does it mean more than a spasmodic revolt against all the frustration of Republicans during the past thirty-odd years? Time alone will tell. Goldwater may retreat hastily from some of his positions. Until he does, the evidence is strong that his movement implies far more than superficial change. When Nebraska Sen. Carl T. Curtis cried to the western delegates, "you are the salt of the earth!" he seemed hailing a shift in the basic philosophy of the party.

Business Booms for Moviemakers

By GENE HANDSAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — With that hang-dog look of his, Will Rogers came riding up on his horse, apologizing for being late.

Mea Murray, John Gilbert, Lon Chaney, Lillian Gish, Ramon Novarro and Antonio Moreno already were on a flag-decked speaker's platform.

"Forgot my gun and had to go back for it," drawled Rogers, and then he stepped into his role as master of ceremonies at a dedication that was to set the pace in a young incredible industry: The making of motion pictures.

The dedication occurred 40 years ago, on April 26, and marked the creation of MGM, a marriage of Metro Picture's Corp., Samuel Goldwyn's Culver

City studios and Louis B. Mayer Productions, Inc.

The motion picture industry had already been launched but it was the operation of MGM that gave the star system its finest hour, and it was here the epic also reached new heights.

Despite the disappearance of a star system that almost guaranteed big box-office revenues and despite almost a decade in the doldrums brought upon the movie industry by the fledgling TV industry, MGM is again thriving. For the 40 weeks ended June 4, it reports a new profit of $3.7 million.

The Culver City lot's success is matched by that of other major studios. Industry observers say Hollywood is more solidly in the black than at any time since it first felt the impact of television.

Movie lots bustle with action. Much of it is for television, now that the rival media have married, but box office cash registers are jingling loudly, too.

MGM, however, is no longer the giant of the industry as in the days of Louis B. Mayer.

Studios today have virtually no stars under contract. Most studios lease space and facilities to companies headed by stars, directors, producers or agents.

MGM's four decades epitomize the history of the industry itself.

In its first decade it aimed at bigness, with such silent epics as "Ben Hur" and "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

Then came sound, and in the 30s the movie industry flourished and expanded, captured the imagination and time of the American public. MGM had the most stars and made the biggest pictures.

The next decade, the '40s, brought Hollywood great prosperity because of the war, with its demand for entertainment at home and for servicemen overseas. Movie fortunes reached their peak.

Wage Increase Proposals Into Business Forefront

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor — whether wages or jobs — is moving into the business forefront this week.

In the auto industry the time of decision is nearing in contract negotiations. How much of a wage increase and other benefits — or a strike? And will the outcome be felt in other industries?

Jobs have been increasing. And so has industrial output. The question is whether this is a start of another upward push for the economy or just a short-term phenomenon in an unusual summer.

The administration in Washington says the improvement in unemployment in July could well mean that at last that stubborn problem may be taking a lasting turn for the better. Many corporation economists might wish to wait awhile to make sure.

The job figures were helped markedly this summer by the record in industrial production set in July, usually a slack period. The Federal Reserve Board's index jumped a full point. Except for the 1.5-point rise in April, this was the biggest increase in 12 months.

Other factory figures show that new hiring has been increasing at a faster than seasonal rate, while the layoff rate has dropped to the lowest level for any month since February 1955.

This, and the steadily increasing number of jobs in the service industries, apparently was enough in July to more than offset a growing labor force and send the unemployment rate below the 5 per cent mark, to the joy of government economists.

Labor can count other good signs for the future. Corporate profits as a whole have risen to a record. Business expansion plans are themselves expanded almost every month. And productivity — that measure of unit output per hour of man labor — continues to rise at a fairly steady rate.

These three things add up to this: Business is in a better position to offer more people jobs

"I knew Olney before I met the Senator and before he met his first wife," she said. "We have been good friends down through the years."

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I came to this rather large city from a small town in Kansas. I was unable to get the kind of employment I had hoped for and my money was running out, so I took a job as a cocktail waitress. The lounge where I work is a favorite hang out for advertising and public relations executives. Their suit sleeves don't have creases in them like the yokels I used to know back home. (My girl friend told me this is the first thing to look for.)

Yesterday one of the best-looking men I ever saw asked me why a girl with such gorgeous legs was waiting on tables. He said I ought to be a hosiery model and that he could help me. But he doesn't want to talk about the job in his office. He prefers my place.

Do you know anything about hosiery modeling? I used to read your column back in Kansas and I trust you, Ann. Please help me.—TOUGH SLEDDING.

Dear Sledding: That model routine is strictly off the cob.

Model agencies have lists a mile long of girls with beautiful gams who are stepping all over each other trying to get jobs.

The man's sleeve may not have a crease but I think he's got something up it. Tell him to get lost.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 13-year-old daughter, Mary Alice, is a sweet and innocent little girl. She received a necklace and some earrings from a 14-year-old boy who lives in the neighborhood. I would guess the boy paid about $7 for the set.

Mary Alice did not tell me about the gift when she received it. I learned about it from her, older sister who tried unsuccessfully to blackmail Mary Alice into doing her household chores. I didn't want to make a big thing of the gift so I said nothing.

That was two weeks ago. Since that time I have discussed the matter with some friends and they all feel I should insist that Mary Alice return the jewelry. I would very much appreciate your opinion.—A.I.R.

Dear A.I.R.: I believe, and very strongly, that jewelry should be sent back at once, and that you tell Mary Alice she may not accept gifts from boys.

The thought of earrings for a 13-year-old nauseates me. Such a gift clearly suggests that these two are playing at being grown up. Wake up and smell the coffee, mother. That 'sweet and innocent little girl' has you buffaloed.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband would rather shoot craps than eat, and that's about the choice we've had for eight miserable years.

Before I married Jack I knew he was a horse player. He promised to give up horses if I would marry him. He kept his word, but now it's dice instead of horses.

We've been living on my paycheck for the past two months because Jack got stuck in a game and borrowed from a tough bunch of monkeys. When I think that he has been working for those thugs instead of for his family I get so mad I can't see straight.

I've tried to reason with him. When we talk, he says I'm right and swears he is going to quit gambling for good. But somehow he hasn't got the will power to stay away from the old bones.

Jack is a swell guy and a wonderful father. I know I'll never leave him no matter what, but I need your help.—ARLENE.

Dear Arlene: Write to Gamblers Anonymous for literature. The address is P. O. Box 17173, Los Angeles 17, Calif.

Gamblers Anonymous has helped compulsive gamblers overcome their addiction. A 5c stamp could change your life. It's worth the gamble—I mean the investment.

'How to Study'

Professors Open a Course To Help College Freshmen

By GEORGE L. ZUCKER, MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — Eager freshmen will flock to the nation's college and university campuses again this fall. For too many, the experience will prove more of a shock than they expected.

Many will fail to survive the pitfalls awaiting them behind the ivied college walls, despite high school achievement and monthly checks from home.

Two Purdue University educators at the University's Barker Memorial Center set out eight years ago to learn why so many high school graduates falter in college. This inquiry into the nation's college dropout problem was begun by Prof. Robert F. Schwarz, 41, the center's director, and Prof. Howard D. J. Murdock, 49, who teaches chemistry.

Schwarz and Murdock set up a two-week course for Michigan City area college-bound graduates in the summer of 1956, calling it, "How to study in college."

The new course was advertised through a direct mail campaign and attracted only mild newspaper publicity. They had hoped 35 students would sign up. When Schwarz got to class that summer evening, he was greeted by 75.

Schwarz and Murdock feel the quandary facing many students entering college is the abrupt adjustment they must make, both social and academic.

As Murdock put it: "The freshman must conform to the 'theys' instead of 'me'. No longer is Mom around to prod him to his books. His college instructors are not likely to remind him an assignment is due or even urge him to do it. The job of acquiring a college education, he will find, is his."

Their "How to study in college" course teaches the psychology of learning and the skills of acquiring knowledge and keeping it.

"Most of us are ill-trained in the art of learning," Schwarz said.

A child may spend most of his formative years learning how to write and, in subsequent order, how to read and articulate ideas.

"We spend practically no time learning how to listen," Schwarz said, "while in the classroom, a student spends 45 per cent of his time listening, only 30 per cent reading, 15 per cent writing and 10 per cent speaking."

Do the professors recommend "cramming" before exams?

"If you haven't done anything else, you'd better do it. But it is the least effective in the learning process."

Murdock contends the entering college freshman's scared stiff inside, despite today's ultrasophisticated teen-agers.

"We have learned it is entirely possible to bring about a change in the attitude of these freshmen when we arm them with information they need and can use and when we help them recognize and identify the real problems of college adjustment. We try to help by giving them a few real tools to bolster their confidence, to live up to their potential," Murdock says.

Would Reject Any Medicare Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members of a conference committee would reject any Senate Medicare amendments to a recently passed bill amending Social Security laws, Rep. Thomas Curtis, R-Mo., predicted Sunday. Curtis is a member of the House Ways and Means Committee that studied the Medicare proposals. He made the statement on a radio program.

What's The Issue?

Curtis said the Senate amendment "is not well-designed to help our older people meet their medical care."

He said such an amendment would jeopardize the whole Social Security system and badly damage the entire medical system "in our society."

Ritzenthaler Addresses Optimist Club

W. H. Ritzenthaler, secretary of the Missouri State Fair was the speaker at Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel, at which time he told of the agricultural, livestock and other exhibits this year and the entertainment of various types that has been planned.

The fair, he pointed out does not change, for it was started in 1901 by the State Department of Agriculture for the purpose of showing of the state's agriculture products and livestock, and thus it continues. The only thing that is different from the beginning is that entertainment has been added.

For years the Missouri State Fair has belonged to a State Fair Association which scheduled the shows each week so that exhibitors could go from one fair to the other. Last year Iowa decided it wanted the dates of the Missouri Fair and there was a little anxiety as to whether there would be a good livestock showing here. There was good response, however, and this year it is so great. Ritzenthaler said that they did not know where they were going to put them all, although the Iowa Fair opens Friday and the Missouri Fair Saturday of this week.

The Missouri State Fair Horse Show has been given an honor rating, the secretary said, and is only one of five to receive such a rating in the country in the class of ten day schedule. This horse show is nine days.

Exhibits in all departments are unusually large this year, he stated, and went on to say that one of the most interesting things to people of all ages is the "Kiddies Barnyard" which has a female and offspring of all kinds of animals and fowls found on a farm.

To people in this area things on a farm are nothing unusual, but he got a letter from a primary teacher in the State of California who wanted a mule. In the children's books it spoke of a mule and they didn't know what a mule was. In New York City they set up things on a farm as an exhibit because many people had never seen them. And then there was the couple who had brought their children to the Missouri State Fair the last weekend to see the livestock and were furious because there was no livestock there. It is shipped in on Friday and out on Friday to the next fair.

Ritzenthaler said that the Missouri State Fair had one of the outstanding floriculture shows in the United States.

He told of other exhibits and the entertainment which includes Leroy Van Dyke, from the Sedalia area, along with other stars.

Ritzenthaler was introduced by R. L. Settles, program chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Clinton Black, president. Rev. Charles Hendrickson gave the invocation and Gerald Cecil led the singing with Mrs. Lillian Maynard at the piano.

Guests introduced by Joe Forsee were: Lloyd Pittman of Arkansas, and Sgt. Howard Bell.

Drought In The Nation's Midsection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There is a drought in the nation's midsection.

Just how bad depends on the person you talk to and where he lives.

Crops planted early did pretty well. Those planted late are struggling. Livestock is running out of pastures. Some townfolks are conserving dwindling water supplies. Fishermen find vacations marred by lowered streams and lakes.

The government has released soil bank acreage in wide areas to keep cattle from being dumped on the market for lack of feed.

On the plus side, wheat farmers who have just about finished their major effort for the year turned in pretty fair crops. Early corn is going to be good in most places and alfalfa has been through two cuttings.

Spring rains were generally good, clear through June. Then July turned hot and dry, climaxing early in August with a heat wave that hot temperatures in many sections higher than they had been since the real drought of the mid-30s. After this came a cool spell that in Missouri and Kansas dropped the temperature some 20 degrees below normal for this time of the year.

Priest Fights Delinquency Among the Young of Congo

ELISABETHVILLE, Congo (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest is waging a battle to save the youth of Elisabethville from delinquency.

Father Gerard Van Asperdt, 38, a former officer in the Dutch air force, also holds an architectural degree. He thought it worth an effort to try to save the thousands of youths who sleep in gutters and spend their waking hours in bars.

He started with only the blessing of the local father superior of the Salesian Order. He cleared some waste ground three miles out of town to build the home of his dreams — a City of Youth.

The local Lions Club donated $2,240 — and Father Van Asperdt has built a modest house for his own living quarters, a kitchen and a chapel.

The next phase of the project will cost $448,000 and Van Asperdt hopes to have it finished within two years. It will provide accommodation for 600 boarders and 900 day boys. Youths of from 15 to 25 are acceptable but, he added: "We shall take older boys if they are unable to find work."

Although he is a Catholic, Father Van Asperdt said "we shall help everybody who needs our help."

The project will include workshops, a bakery and a technical school. Products will be sold in town to raise funds.

Van Asperdt's only assistant is a young Italian, Abbe Mario Marchioli, 20, from Abruzzi, who is studying for his theological degree at a Catholic college here.

Early every morning, a number of youths report to work on the project. Their only pay is a bowl of corn at lunchtime and a free ticket to the Sunday soccer match.

The priest has opened playing fields and is proud of his two pairs of boxing gloves. In his air

Sees Satellite As Saving to Networks

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A space communications expert says it is possible by use of a satellite to blanket North America with one television station at a cost of $30 million, compared to the $500 million a full network costs.

George S. Shaw, senior vice president and cofounder of Radiation Inc., of Melbourne, Fla., said Monday, "A communications satellite in synchronous, or apparently stationary, orbit can beam a television signal which has been relayed to it from a ground source and provide continuous programs."

Some think Americans will buy anyway and pay the tax. The majority, including Congress, apparently expects the securities tax to be an effective weapon in the long fight to balance the outflow and inflow of money. The winner would be the Yankee dollar's good reputation and therefore the nation's gold reserves.

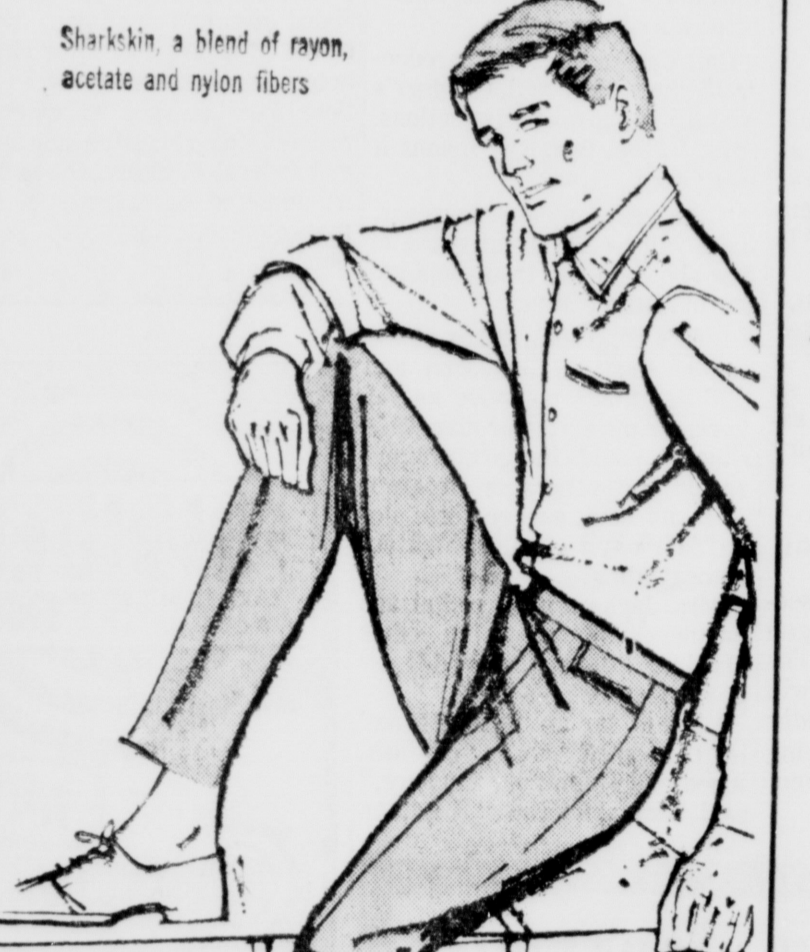

But Congress hasn't been moved by the bankers' arguments. Now attention will switch to seeing how effective the next tax will be.

Move to Keep Investments In America

NEW YORK (AP) — Congress is moving to fence in American investors from the greener pastures overseas. Or, from the foreigner's point of view, it is curbing access to the lower long-term interest rates prevailing in the United States.

Washington wants to keep American dollars at work at home rather than grabbing off the higher yield which foreign industrial and financial investments have offered.

The method adopted is to tax purchases by Americans from foreigners of foreign securities, plus a threat to tax commercial loans by U.S. banks to foreigners if these should multiply. Americans can still buy, free of tax, such securities from their fellow citizens who may already own them.

The purpose is to prevent another big outflow of U.S. investment money abroad such as threatened U.S. dollar and gold reserves in the spring of 1963. Actually the outflow was pretty well halted that summer by the introduction of the interest equalization tax measure which Congress seems ready to pass.

Its provisions are retroactive to stock purchases since July 1963.

And this apparently kept most investors from buying the foreign stocks and bonds pending congressional action.

A perhaps equally potent deterrent was the weakness in European stock markets since then. Foreign investments have not looked as tempting, tax or not.

But interest rates have been rising in Western Europe. And American bankers active in international finance, as well as dealers of such securities, have been critical of the proposed tax.

They would prefer a free international capital market as making for a healthier world situation. They also contend that the returns on American investments abroad are a big help toward balancing U.S. international payments. And the bank-

Headaches, Blessings Both Linked to Food Stamp Plan

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional enactment of legislation putting the food stamp plan on a permanent basis and authorizing its expansion carries a mixture of blessings and headaches for the administration.

The measure, which had been sought both by President Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy, offers blessings, the sponsors say, in that it will help thousands of poorly fed Americans eat better and provide farmers a broadened market for their products.

Prep School Aids Youths From Slums

By GORDON A. GLOVER
HANOVER, N. H. (AP) — An Indian youth from South Dakota curls up with Homer's "Odyssey," his eyes darting hungrily across each page. A Negro, idly drumming his knuckles with a pencil, frowns in concentration over an algebra problem.

One is from a windswept reservation on the Great Plains, the other from the slums of Harlem.

But both are on the threshold of a world once reserved for the rich and the well-born. They are preparing to enter the swankiest of New England prep schools.

For these youngsters, and 52 others like them, Dartmouth College and 40 top-grade preparatory schools this summer launched a program called project ABC — or "A Better Chance."

Its purpose is to help the boys bridge the gap between their home environments and the campuses of places like the Choate School, Phillips Andover Academy, Groton, St. Paul's and Hotchkiss.

For eight weeks they are boning up on mathematics and English at Dartmouth. They attend classes for four hours daily, then study on their own for at least four hours more. The atmosphere is tense and competitive, much as it would be at prep school.

The boys were selected by the independent schools talent search program, whose field director is James E. Simmons, a Negro and graduate of Harvard.

Working with teachers, welfare workers, church groups and others, he found promising students with uncertain academic futures. Most are Negroes from the big cities of the East or from rural areas of the South. One is a Puerto Rican from New York. Another is a Chinese-American. All come from impoverished families, many subsisting on welfare payments.

If they do well in the ABC program, the boys — ranging in age from 13 to 17 — will go on to prep schools with full scholarship aid.

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island was named keynote of the Democratic National Convention, one of his colleagues remarked:

"Nobody will go to sleep while he's talking. And I hope they give him room on the platform to move about."

Pastore is regarded in the Senate as a free-flowing speaker who draws on what he knows instead of following a prepared speech, ready to take on all comers in a debate. He often dances about and flails his arms as he argues.

He is a champion of Civil Rights, always in the thick of the fight on social welfare legislation and foreign aid appropriations. He is chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, where he demonstrates an ability to translate nuclear terms into language less-versed layman can understand.

Pastore was born of poor Italian immigrant parents in Providence, R.I., on St. Patrick's Day, 1907. He once said, "I always felt I had two strikes against me and to succeed I had to do a better job than anybody else."

He worked in his father's tail or shop and a jewelry store and attended law school at night. After he got his degree, he entered politics.

He was state representative, assistant state attorney general, lieutenant governor and governor. He was elected to the Senate in 1950. He was a member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations in 1955 and a Congressional adviser in 1956 in the U.N. establishment of an international Atomic Energy Agency. He was a Senate representative to international atomic energy conference in Vienna in 1957 and Geneva in 1958 and 1961.

The convention arrangements committee's choice of Pastore as the keynote is seen by some to emphasize Johnson's intention to bid strongly for support from the Eastern industrial states where minorities influence voting pattern.

May Hold Hearing On Dairy Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department may conduct a hearing on requests by Missouri dairy cooperatives for an emergency increase of 25 cents a hundredweight for Class I milk because of drought, Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., said Thursday.

Hall said the department is conducting an investigation to determine if a hearing should be held. He said each milk marketing area administrator has been asked to supply preliminary information on which to make a decision.

"If a hearing is scheduled," Hall said, "it should be based on a reasonable probability a 25 cent increase is justified so that dairymen will not be exposed to a lot of sound and fury signifying little if anything."

Second Power Station

PARIS (AP) — France's second nuclear power station began operating Monday night. The station, located at Chinon, will undergo tests for the remainder of the year and at the beginning of next year will furnish about 17,000 kilowatts of power.

Perry Mason May Be Over This Season

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Perry Mason's" fans turned around and accidentally nipped star Raymond Burr recently. Mr. Burr was in no position to complain.

For the past three or four years, the actor has suggested about this time that it will be his final season. He is interested in other pursuits, he says, including his art galleries, motion pictures and a stage career. There follows a period of considerable excitement at CBS but ultimately comes the news that "Perry Mason" will continue for another season or so.

This year, however, Burr started grumbling in print ahead of his usual schedule. This led television innocents to believe that the summer re-runs from 1961 and 1962 shows were to be Perry's swan-song. They wrote in, declaring their undying affection.

For the first time in the seven-year history of the program, however, Burr's prediction of the end to the successful television career of Erle Stanley Gardner's most popular character may be accurate.

Gail Patrick Jackson, producer of the series and Gardner's partner in Paisano Productions, says: "I feel that Ray means it this year."

"This year" means, however, there will be the usual quota of new shows to run from September to April or May.

Burr's contract expires at the end of the 1964-65 season and CBS has made no move as yet to renew the series or star. This situation could change suddenly, should the venerable program — in its new, earlier time slot on Thursdays — nab a high audience rating.

Mrs. Jackson and her Paisano partners are preparing other Gardner literary properties for conversion to television.

"But as far as 'Perry Mason' is concerned, we're old-fashioned and I think our fans are," said Mrs. Jackson. "They like the show the way it is and they don't like change. We know. We tried adding new characters here and there — and went back to our original form."

So — for the time being at least — "Perry Mason" will still be winning his weekly case in the courtroom. It sure gives a warm comfortable feeling to know that something is stable in that unstable world of television.

ABC, after studying the generally enthusiastic comments on a recent five-day test run, has awarded interviewer — commentator Les Crane a late-evening weekday network show starting Nov. 9. This will bring him into head-on conflict with NBC's Johnny Carson and, in many communities, Steve Allen's syndicated series.

Beef Import Limit Backed By Bradshaw

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP) — Cattlemen will be helped greatly by a law limiting beef imports, Jean Paul Bradshaw, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, said at a rally Thursday night.

Besides the economic value, the bill will help the cattle producer maintain his traditional independence, Bradshaw said.

"Livestock producers have resisted attempts to subject them to the creeping socialism characteristic of so much of our national life," he said. "They have resisted federal price supports and federal controls. Given the unhampered opportunity of the marketplace, they can prosper."

Warsaw Family On Safari

Clayton A. Hubbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Hubbs of Warsaw, his wife and son, Gregory, have recently completed a six months tour of North Africa, the Middle East, Turkey and Germany, making the trip in their Volkswagen bus which they acquired in England a short time before his discharge from the United States Air Force in England.

They went on their own but the Automobile Association, of which they are members, provided maps and information. They went first to Gibraltar and the North African coast and found the roads, which they had heard were very bad, not too difficult, some were as good as our secondary major highways. They stopped often along the way when they saw something that interested them, such as archaeological excavations. At Carthage they visited the White Fathers, so called because of the white habit they wear, and the ancient Roman baths.

Mrs. Hubbs, who is the former Joanna Tohari, spent her childhood in Vevey, Switzerland and eight years as a student in English schools. Her ability to speak French well was an asset. It was as they neared Egypt that they met one of the desert tribes. After seeing many outstanding things in Egypt they motored along the Red Sea to Aswan. It was on Dec. 24 they arrived at the Coptic Christian Monastery of St. Paul's but were disappointed because they discovered this was simply a normal day, and the observance of Christmas was not until 14 days later.

From Aswan they went over the little changed route to Canaan where the Israelites wandered. They visited the Jordan side of Jerusalem and on beyond Bethlehem, toward Damascus and Baghdad.

Outside the holy city they had an experience when they became engulfed in a crowd who were hostile toward them because this was not only a holy city but a holy day. Hubbs asked the Mullah, the religious leader, if he spoke English, and he said he did. So, to this leader in Arab dress he explained their presence. The leader offered Mrs. Hubbs an Arab woman's dress and agreed to conduct her through the blue and gold mosque, but because of his blond beard Hubbs himself was barred. Mrs. Hubbs did not accept the offer.

They traveled through Turkey and into Germany where Mrs. Hubbs has relatives.

Since returning to America a new member has been added to their family, Victoria, who was born six weeks ago.

Hubbs completed the course for his master's degree before entering the Air Force and will, in September, begin work toward his doctorate in journalism at University of Missouri, Columbia. He plans to teach.

Mrs. Hubbs, who speaks not only English and French, but German and Polish, will also attend the University of Missouri where she will work toward degrees in Russian. She plans to teach or be an interpreter. Her father was Polish and active in underground work during World War II. Her family came to this country in 1956.

A story by the Hubbs family by Rose DeWever, Tribune staff writer, appeared in the Columbia Daily Tribune Aug. 12.

Lands Giant Fish After Long Battle

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bolstered by a ham sandwich, weary 15-year-old Tom Joyner Jr., battled a 370-pound sting ray for 18 hours.

He finally got it to shore, but with the help of divers.

"I don't care," Tom said. "I got him anyway."

He never let go of the line from 6:45 p.m. Monday until 1:30 p.m. Tuesday when two divers ran an oar through the ray's gills and helped Tom haul him to the beach with a boat.

A huge crowd, part of the thousands who came by during the day, had gathered.

Tom wouldn't leave the 600-foot-long Patrick Air Force Base pier after he hooked into the ray, a round, flat-bodied creature with a whip-like tail capable of inflicting severe wounds.

Through the night, his father and friends fed him coffee. When morning and the hot Florida sun came, Tom switched to soft drinks.

His father sprayed the reel with water but it still burned Tom's hands through his heavy gloves.

Just before noon, Tom ate a ham sandwich — his only food during the battle. He was never able to bring the ray closer than 200 yards, and he decided to go after it in a boat when it played out 300 yards of his 400-yard, 98-pound test line.

Tom's battle wasn't the first at the pier. Last July, Mike Douglas, 15, battled a giant jewfish for 33 hours before losing it. Also last July, Tom landed a 310-pound shark, a record for the pier.

Young Wife Drives Big Equipment

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Sidewalk superintendents like to know where contractor Ray Schoenberger is laying asphalt. If they are lucky, one of his workers may fail to show up and "Honey" will get into action. continues "because I love it."

"Honey" is 130 pounds of blonde femininity. Jauntily outfitted in white blouse, tan capris and moccasins, she wheels 10-ton dump trucks loaded with hot asphalt in and out of narrow spaces, plops the mix where it's needed, then takes over the complicated controls of a steamroller and smooths the surfacing with all the aplomb of a grizzled veteran.

"Honey" also happens to be Ray's 26-year-old wife, Margaret, mother of five youngsters aged 3 to 10.

Mrs. Schoenberger started driving her husband's equipment out of grim necessity. She continues "because I love it."

"I learned to drive a car when I was 11 years old," she said. "When I was 14 I was driving everywhere by myself. Ray and I got married when I was 16. I had always wanted to drive trucks and he taught me how."

In those days Ray owned two dump trucks. For the first few years Margaret was busy with babies. There was Dennis, now 10; then Sheryl, 9, and Vicki, 8. Margaret was pregnant with Raymond, now 5, when tragedy struck.

"Ray was working on a motor in one of his trucks when some gasoline exploded. He was burned from head to waist. We were already having financial troubles. We couldn't get good drivers and those we got didn't take care of the equipment."

"The repair bills were terrible. Then Ray was hurt and in the hospital. But we couldn't even afford to keep him there. Something had to be done."

"As soon as the baby was born, I told Ray he'd have to teach me the business. Six weeks later I was driving the trucks."

"Honey" modestly protests that what she does is "just ordinary work." But she agrees that people do stop and stare when they see her handling the big machines.

"The most startled seem to be the other truck drivers," she laughed.

Would Retire Both Farmer And His Land

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A plan to help retire both farmers and their land has been approved by the Missouri Farmers Association.

The proposal provides that any farmer 62 years or older could place his entire farm under the conservation reserve program. A man would have to be a farmer at least five years to be eligible.

Other resolutions adopted Monday at the annual convention included recommendations for keeping the farm program under control of farmers; continued abundance with sale of surplus products abroad, and promotion of foreign sales.

The convention recommended licensing of persons engaged in commercial pesticide work, both agricultural and household. The state's handling of the fish kill in the Missouri and Mississippi rivers was commended.

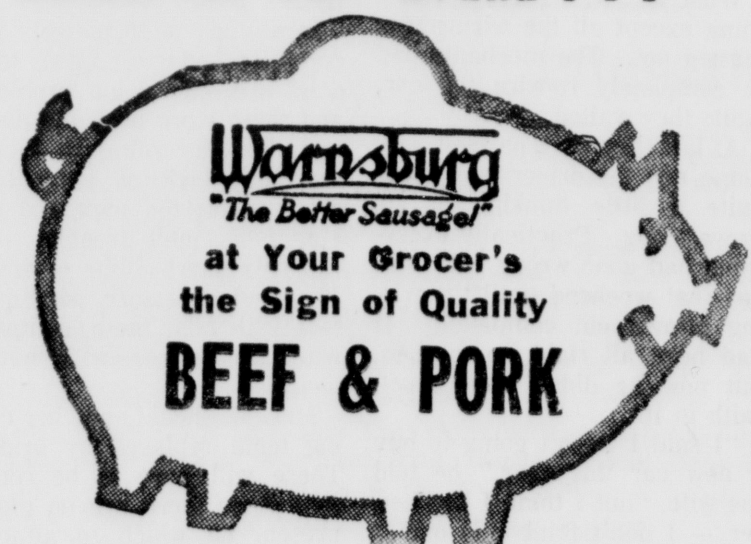

Fred V. Heinkel of Columbia, president of the MFA since 1940, was re-elected. L. O. Wallis, Springfield, was re-elected vice president.

James VanHouten of Clarence and Eldon Block of Jackson were elected directors.

The Junior Farmers Association elected Anna Peters of Union as president; Ann Burkhardt of Hermann, vice president, and Judy Harris, Mountain Grove, secretary.

They'll Be Back August 31

Senate and House members in Washington who are seeking reelection in November are singing the blues today. They had expected to clear the decks of legislation then adjourn prior to the Democratic convention in Atlantic City next Monday. This would allow candidates to hit the fall campaign trail which some of them need to do with more than a token sprint.

But instead of adjournment, congress leaders have scheduled a recess. So they'll be back at work in both Houses on August 31.

This thwarting of congressional desires came about over a technicality involving possible filibuster over the reapportionment rider to the foreign aid bill.

The reapportionment issue has stirred up clouds of dust among the politicians and electorate ever since the Supreme Court decreed that both houses of a state legislature must be apportioned to represent districts of substantially equal population.

It does seem odd that people, including Supreme Court justices, have been reading the Constitution for 175 years without ever noticing that it said both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned according to the one-man-one-vote principle.

Now that the court has unearthed this heretofore hidden meaning, most of the legislatures in the country and many of the state constitutions will have to be shaken up and knocked about in an awful hurry, unless Congress acts which it tried to do but got stalled this week. Something may develop yet in the waning days of the session which resumes August 31.

The amendment which brought things to a stall will give America a little time to catch its breath and its legislatures time to ratify an Amendment that will allow them to tailor themselves a little more to the liking of the people of their states than the Supreme Court's decision allows.

Some of the legislatures so beset by the Court were in existence before the Congress itself. Many of them were set up after the 14th Amendment was passed, and their constitutions were examined by Congressmen who drafted the Amendment before they were readmitted to the Union after the Civil War.

It doesn't seem likely that the framers of the Amendment, in which the Court tells us it found its authority, would overlook failures of the states to comply with what they really put into it.

If the Court is right, some interesting questions are raised. If the legislatures have been illegally constituted all these years, aren't the laws they passed void? Weren't the Federal elections that were held under these illegal laws void, too? Then weren't the Presidents unlawfully elected? And who appointed the Court's nine justices? A series of unlawfully-elected Presidents!

If the Senators and House members who are trying to straighten things out are successful, we may all have occasion to be grateful. Perhaps, in the light of this possibility, the Supreme Court itself may give a sigh of relief.

Sharpshooters Take Aim at Television

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—For various reasons, it looks as if television is going to be up against the congressional gun this year. Here are some of the solons who are shooting at it.

SHARPSHOOTER NO. 1 is Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., who blames television for our scandalous juvenile delinquency increase. He is supported by Sen. Ken Keating, R-N.Y. In tough language they have warned the networks that there's been absolutely no change in the diet of crime and sex being dished out to the public—especially by NBC and ABC.

SHARPSHOOTERS NO. 2 are Reps. Manly Celler, N.Y., and Henry Reuss, Wis., with Sen. Phil Hart, Mich., all Democrats, who want to probe CBS's acquisition of 80 per cent of the New York Yankees. They wonder how other ball clubs will be able to get TV publicity when the Yankees are owned by one of the major TV networks.

SHARPSHOOTER NO. 3 is Barry Goldwater, who claims the networks have been unfair to him.

SHARPSHOOTERS NO. 4 are Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., and Sen. Bill Proxmire, D-Wis., who point to the hookup between defense industries and the TV industry.

This may be the most important criticism of all. For here the congressional shooters point out that not merely a few ball games, but the question of the military budget, and indirectly, of peace and war is at stake.

Baseball, TV, and Defense

The possibility that CBS might favor the Yanks on TV would affect box office receipts or who would play in the World Series. But it would not affect the fate of nations.

The close link between TV stations and big defense industries, however, could. It becomes extremely important, therefore, to know how much these defense-owned stations are influencing the public's mind regarding bigger defense budgets, continuation of obsolete weapons, intensifying the cold war, criticizing the policy of co-existence; failure to criticize cost-plus contracts,

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

With the completion of new pavement from Broadway to Tenth street, adjacent to the Smith-Cotton High school, the north-south street will have 23 feet for two-way traffic in contrast to the former 16 feet. A new sidewalk is also being constructed. The improvement is an outstanding part of the WPA paving project sponsored by the city of Sedalia.

FORTY YEARS AGO

T. A. Hickerson won the golf championship of the Sedalia Country Club from E. P. Neef, champion for the past nine years, in a 36-hole game. Hickerson had been runner up for the past three years. In class "C" Arthur J. Meuschke won from J. R. Cotterman. In Class "B" finals Tom Cloney won from J. R. Quinn.

Pentagon inefficiencies, or any number of everyday problems which link public information with war and peace.

Even if the TV stations owned by defense industries lean over backward to be fair and impartial—as it is assumed CBS will do regarding baseball—no TV station should be in the embarrassing conflict-of-interest position where it has to make these decisions.

Yet the National Broadcasting Company is wholly owned by RCA, one of the top defense contractors. General Electric, the No. 3 defense contractor, owns the most powerful radio and TV complex in central New York. Westinghouse, a major contractor, owns a sizable TV-radio network of its own—and, incidentally, does an excellent public service job. General Tire and Rubber, which manufactures the Polaris missile, owns some of the major TV and radio stations in the nation; so does American Aviation, another defense contractor.

It will be interesting to see what the probes of links between TV and baseball also do about links between TV and defense contractors.

Speaking of baseball, this column's report that some D.C. TV stations failed to carry the special interview with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the Viet Nam crisis because of baseball, caused sparks to fly.

The Rusk interview, filmed after the Secretary of State had been up most of the night and was dog-tired, was scheduled for network airing at 7:30 p.m. WTOP, the CBS outlet in Washington, had a ball game scheduled and aired the Rusk interview between 11:30 p.m. and 12:30 a.m.

WRC, the NBC-owned and operated station, did not show Rusk at the network time, but did show him in prime time, between 9-10 p.m.

On Aug. 5, at the height of the Vietnamese crisis, with American bombers having just returned from raiding North Vietnam PT boat installations and the world wondering whether Red China would retaliate, President Johnson delivered a vitally important speech at Syracuse at noon.

Unlike the other networks, ABC did not carry the president's speech. Instead, it carried two game shows, "Get the Message" and "The Missing Link."

CBS did better by Goldwater and the Republicans one week later. It interrupted its entire network at 2:23 p.m., Aug. 12, to carry the entire press conference of Goldwater, Eisenhower, Nixon, and Miller. It lasted 61 minutes until 3:24, much to the indignation of regular viewers who missed their favorite program "Password" and squawked loudly to local stations.

Such are some of the headaches of TV and radio programmers. The rewards, however, are also great. Leonard Golden-son, president of ABC, once told how some years ago he was told that if he could scrape up $25,000,000 he could acquire the ABC network. He did so. But this year he bid $28,000,000 for the football rights on the network and lost out to a higher bidder.

The Conestoga wagons used by American pioneers usually were pulled by four to six horses.

Arkansas produces about 30 million barrels of oil annually.

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rock 'im and sock 'im and belt 'im every chance we get.

This clearly seems the Johnson administration's policy against Sen. Barry Goldwater in the presidential campaign which, before it even starts, promises to be the roughest, toughest in memory.

Goldwater didn't spare President Johnson's feelings when he called him a "phony." Johnson and some of his top aides have already set the pattern of not sparing Goldwater's.

One prime example: this week's performance by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara at the Democrats' hearings on the platform they are trying to stitch together.

Another example: Johnson's blazing attack on Goldwater, one of the first personal assaults he has made since becoming president.

Last week Goldwater criticized this country's defense program: "Under our present leadership, with its utter disregard for new weapons, our deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut down by 90 per cent in the next decade."

The Defense Department promptly fired back that this statement of the Republican presidential candidate was "without foundation," was "contrary to the facts" and was "totally false."

McNamara followed this up in his personal appearance before the platform committee.

"Let me assure you that our strategic forces are and will remain in the 1960s and 1970s sufficient to insure the destruction of both the Soviet Union and Communist China under the worst imaginable circumstances accompanying the outbreak of war," McNamara said.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Some Answers About The German Measles

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Q—About a month ago my 11-month-old daughter caught German measles from her older sister. The doctor says you can only get the disease once, but the baby has just developed the same rash and symptoms all over again. Is it possible to get this disease more than once?

A—One attack of German measles usually confers lasting immunity. When a second attack does occur, it is usually several years later. In the case of your 11-month-old daughter, I would strongly suspect that one of her attacks was some other disease associated with a rash and fever, such as measles, scarlet fever or pink disease.

Q—My husband developed pains in his joints following a recent attack of German measles. Our doctor told him he had rheumatoid arthritis. Is this an aftermath of German measles?

A—Although this is not a common complication, joint pains may persist for several weeks after an attack of German measles. Let's hope this is the cause of your husband's pains, since this type of arthritis usually subsides spontaneously.

Q—My son has just recovered from German measles. I told our pediatrician that I might be pregnant but he said that, as long as I had had German measles as a child, I had nothing to fear. What do you think?

A—Although it is unlikely that you will contract German measles a second time, any contact with the causative virus during the first three months of pregnancy may endanger the baby. When such a contact cannot be avoided, as in your case, an injection of gamma globulin should be given.

Q—Can dogs carry the ticks that cause paralysis? Are these ticks found near lakes?

A—The dog tick and the wood tick have been known to cause a temporary paralysis in human beings, especially in girls, because the tick may fasten itself to the skin of the scalp where it is not readily found and removed. The paralysis develops as a result of a nerve poison that the tick injects into the skin. This occurs only after the tick has been attached for several days. The best prevention, therefore, is to find and remove the ticks. This disease may be found in the vicinity of woodland lakes and is most prevalent in Canada and northern United States.

That Annoying Corn Silk

By Polly Cramer
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—We are all regular readers and have seen many good hints for using nylon net puff balls. Today we discovered another new one. When cleaning the silks off ears of corn, a net scrubber or puff ball will make short work of a tedious and time-consuming job. Just hold the corn under running water, scrub and soon there are no corn silks.—S. P.

DEAR POLLY—If you have a long-haired dog who likes to ride in the car, you know how hard it is to get those hairs off the seat. A piece of dampened sandpaper works like magic.—MARGARET

GIRLS—Be sure sandpaper is fine. Rub lightly.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—My 11-year-old daughter who does the dishes six nights a week asked me to put hooks under the shelf that extends over the greater portion of the dish drainer. She wanted these hooks for hanging the just-rinsed cups so the drainer would not fill up too fast before she was ready to start drying the dishes. She is a constant reader of Polly's Pointers and I was delighted that she figured this space saver out.—NANCY GIRLS—Don't you agree that Nancy should be pleased with her young daughter's ingenuity?

Housekeeping will be a breeze for her when she grows up.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Summer days can seem mighty long to the little ones with that extra hour or so of light for playtime. I know you have all had them say, "What can we do now?" I hope the following suggestions will occupy some of your children's extra time as it has mine.

Giant bubbles—cut out the inner section of a plastic coffee can lid. Mix a sudsy detergent and water solution in a large pan or baby bathtub. Add the plastic ring. Either blow or let the wind blow giant soap bubbles. Strictly an outdoor activity.

Squirt guns—Detergent soap bottles, with squeeze tops, make excellent squirt guns. On a hot summer's day who cares if the children get wet?

Indian necklace—color with crayons and string inch-long macaroni. It takes a 4-year-old at least an hour to string a necklace.

To make gems—Water paint some stones.

Totem pole—Color the long egg cartons with crayons. Cut carton in half first. This will take another hour or so.—MRS. M. J. M.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Healthy Teeth Ache? May Be In Jaw Joint

By William Lawrence, D.D.S.,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"Since my teeth were pulled out," Mrs. M. complains, "I feel pressure in my jaw and the side of my head hurts. I don't know if this has anything to do with it, but my tongue burns, too."

Mrs. M.'s trouble brings us everything except the car—and when they all got in and the driver started the motor, there was more sputtering and this time the smoke really rolled out.

There was an excellent mechanic in the area, they were told, who had just left the motel or hotel a few minutes before. They called him and he returned.

What was wrong now? Not a thing except all the wiring was burned out. The mechanic had to completely re-wire the car, while they waited.

At last they were on their way home and the driver was doing quite a little thinking as he drove along. Practically everything had gone wrong with that car that weekend until the wiring burned out completely. It had been all right up to then, but now he didn't have much faith in it.

"I said I wasn't going to buy a new car this year," he told his wife, "but I think I had better—I don't think this one is going to hold out another year." "And that," she said, "is the reason we have a new car."—H. L.

once again to that vital bit of anatomy called the temporomandibular joint, or the hinge on which the jaw moves.

The way our upper and lower teeth fit together can affect this hinge. When it is thrown out of line, or even by a poorly fitting bridge, the T.M. joint may act up.

Such a condition can produce a variety of ills; snapping, clicking, aching of still healthy teeth, neuralgic pains and the discomforts mentioned by Mrs. M. For this joint to remain healthy, teeth should be kept in proper balance. Dentists do this by "checking the bite" and adjusting the biting surfaces of the teeth.

In a study of 90 patients with complete sets of false teeth, only two had joint problems, and these were probably due to arthritis. According to the researcher, lack of teeth takes pressure off the joint and thus eliminates joint troubles. One can only exert a bite of around 50 pounds pressure per square inch with false teeth, compared with 250 pounds with natural teeth.

Mrs. M. should have her missing teeth replaced by bridges. These will have to be removable since there are no molars present on which to attach a fixed bridge. But fixed bridges are preferred when possible. They strengthen adjoining teeth and are more natural.

Cincy Blanks Frisco 1-0; Cardinals Defeat Houston

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

If you see it Al Dark's way, the San Francisco Giants were beaten in the first game of their vital home stand by three arms.

Dark, whose Giants are trying to overhaul National League-leading Philadelphia, wasn't too happy about the job done by Jim O'Toole's left arm as the Cincinnati ace pitched the Reds to a four-hit, 1-0 victory Tuesday night.

But what made the San Francisco manager furious was the feeling that the Giants were really given the business by Vada Pinson's waving arms.

The situation that angered Dark arose in the eighth inning of a scoreless duel between O'Toole and Bob Bolin, who had limited the Reds to two hits when they suddenly parlayed a walk, a bunt single, an error and Pinson's arms into the game's only run.

With one out in the eighth, Chico Ruiz walked and reached second on Marty Keough's bunt single. Pinson then lofted a short fly to center, shortstop Jose Pagan brushing into center fielder Willie Mays as the ball dropped between them. That filled the bases and set the stage for the key play.

Frank Robinson hit a grounder to second baseman Hal Lanier, who flipped to Pagan for a force, but the Giants missed the double play when Pagan's relay to first pulled Orlando Cepeda off the bag. Ruiz entered the Reds' dugout after scoring as Dark came storming out of the Giants' dugout.

Dark protested that Pinson had interfered with Pagan's vision by waving his arms as he came into second base, but was overruled. He also was ejected.

The loss cost the Giants an opportunity to gain ground on the front-running Phillies, who maintained their five-game bulge despite a 4-3 loss in 16 innings to the Chicago Cubs.

Joey Amalfitano's two-run double won it for the Cubs in a 5-hour and 23-minute struggle which was the first to go past the 12:30 a.m. local time curfew since NL President Warren Giles lifted the time ban to allow all games to be played to a decision.

The St. Louis Cardinals, meanwhile, moved into fourth place as Ray Sadecki posted his 15th victory in a 5-2 triumph over Houston. Milwaukee's Den-ny Lemaster four-hit the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-1 and Joe Christopher slammed a homer.

two triples and a double in the New York Mets' 7-3 walloping of Pittsburgh.

Amalfitano put an end to the Cubs-Phillies' marathon with two out in the 16th when he doubled after Andre Rodgers singled and pinch hitter Dick Bertelli walked. The Cubs needed both runs as Philadelphia catcher Clay Dalrymple, who had committed a costly two-base error earlier, homered in the bottom of the 16th.

Dalrymple's error came after Amalfitano had homered in the eighth for the first run off Dennis Bennett, who had allowed only four hits and held a 1-0 lead. Dalrymple fired wild on a high bouncer in front of the plate by Leo Burke, who then scored on a double by Ernie Banks.

The Phillies tied it in the ninth when Alex Johnson, running for Wes Covington, who had singled, stole second and scored on Tony Taylor's single.

Sadecki, 15-9, won his own game in the seventh inning when he tripled and scored the run that broke a 2-2 tie on Lou Brock's single. Sadecki then turned the pitching over to Barney Schultz, who held the Colts in check the rest of the way.

Lemaster, bringing his record to 13-8, got the only runs he needed when batterymate Ed Bailey singled home two in the sixth inning after the Braves loaded the bases on an error Lee Maye's single and a walk. That tagged Don Drysdale, 13-13, with the loss.

Christopher carried the load for the Mets, driving in three runs and scoring two. Ron Hunt chipped in with three hits in support of Al Jackson, who was tagged for a homer by Gene Freese but extended New York's winning streak to three games.

Counting On Gilchrist, Carlton

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Coach Lou Saban counts on the running of a healthy Cookie Gilchrist and Wray Carlton and the passing of Jack Kemp to keep his Buffalo Bills in the thick of the race in the American Football League's Eastern Division.

"This should be the best club I've had," said Saban, who is starting his third year as head man. "Our main problem last year was losing key men like Carlton, Gilchrist and Dick Hudson for most of the season. Our offensive line should be better and our running game should be improved. We have added some young men who will help us on defense."

The Bills have a secret weapon in Pete Gogolak, the Hungarian refugee from Cornell who kicks field goals from a 45-degree angle, soccer-style. Gogolak booted a 57-yard field goal in the Bills' first exhibition game and thinks he can do better.

Kemp, with Daryle Lamonica to back him up, will do the passing to split end Bill Miller, flanker Elbert Dubenion and tight end Ernie Warlick.

Gilchrist, reportedly sound again, is ready to carry the heavy burden at fullback, with Carlton, a 6-foot-2, 220-pounder, at running back. Leroy Jackson, ex-Washington Redskins, is behind Carlton.

Saban is high on two rookie defense linemen, Harrison (Hatch) Rosdahl of Penn State

RHUBARB !!! — A rhubarb broke out in the fifth inning of the Phillies-Cubs game Tuesday when home plate umpire Bill Jackowski claimed that Cub pitcher Bob Buhl threw a "spitter". Jackowski walked to the mound to argue with Buhl at which point head coach Bob Kennedy (61) raced out to talk to the home plate umpire and the entire Cubs infield and the other three umpires joined in.

Orioles Recover Losses By Defeating Boston 5-2

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles are flying again, but they haven't reached Mickey Lolich's altitude.

The Orioles, recovering from two straight losses to the New York Yankees, defeated Boston 5-2 Tuesday night and maintained their 1½-game lead over Chicago in the American League pennant race.

Lolich took time out from a two-week hitch with the Air Force for a three-hit 1-0 shutout over the Los Angeles Angels in the second game of a two-night doubleheader. The Angels won the opener 1-0 behind the two-hit hurling of Dean Chance.

Stationed at Alpena, Mich., 230 miles from Detroit, Lolich flew in on a C47 especially for the game. He planned to return to Alpena the same way today.

The 24-year-old left-hander stopped over in Detroit long enough to allow three singles in the first inning, then hold the Angels hitless the rest of the way for his 13th triumph against seven defeats.

Lolich also had time to watch the majors' leading shutout ace at work. Chance, a remarkable 23-year-old right-hander, shot down the Tigers for his eighth shutout of the season and his second straight two-hit white-wash performance.

The victory was Chance's ninth in a row and gave him a 14-5 record. It also moved him one shutout ahead of Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees and Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Houstonia Defeats Marshall Stampers

Houstonia defeated Marshall Stampers 4-1 in the annual district softball tournament finals Monday night in Marshall. The tournament began Friday night and was played through Monday. Monday's game was a three-hitter with pitcher Robert Seivier, Houstonia, credited with the win.

Houstonia and Stampers will play in the state tournament in Springfield on Labor Day weekend, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Sedalia teams participating were Mike O'Connor, who went to state last year and Fitzwilliams Motors.

and Tom Keating of Michigan. Both are potential defensive ends. Jim Dunaway and Tom Sestak at the tackles are top-flight. The ends are Roland McDole and Tom Day.

John Tracey, Harry Jacobs and Mike Stratton are the regular line-backers with Paul Maguire, former San Diego player, as reserve and also punter.

The Angels' ace, who hasn't lost since July 1, also reduced his earned run average to 1.60. Elsewhere in the AL, the White Sox nipped the Yankees 4-3 in 10 innings, Minnesota

Combination To Head US Tennis Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston, the two-man combination which wrested the Davis Cup from Australia last year, were named today to head a seven-man team for defense of the trophy next month.

Meanwhile, fear that the wily Melbourne fox, Harry Hopman, might be planning a fast one for the Challenge Round was eased with the announcement that the Australian team definitely will play in the U.S. National championships at Forest Hills Sept. 3-13.

McKinley and others had expressed the opinion that Hopman would hold his boys out of the Forest Hills tournament and take them directly to Cleveland to get used to the combination clay surface on which the matches will be played.

The Challenge Round is scheduled Sept. 25-27. Players moving directly from Forest Hill's fast grass to Cleveland's slow clay would have to make quick revisions in their style of play.

Henry Benisch, tournament chairman at the West Side Tennis Club, said, however, that he had talked with Hopman, the Australian captain, on Monday and that Hopman had assured him the entire Aussie team would play at Forest Hills.

Besides McKinley and Ralston, the country's No. 1 and No. 2 ranked players respectively, the squad included Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., No. 3; Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., No. 5; Arthur Ashe Jr., of Richmond, Va., No. 6; Charley Pasarell of Puerto Rico and Clark Graebner.

Ashe, 21, is the first Negro ever named to a Challenge Round squad.

Rotary Downs Lions

In Tuesday's action in Little League play, Rotary C downed Lions C, 15-4.

In B action, Adco won out over Moose, 13-11, in extra innings. Walters took the loss for Adco. The losing pitcher for Moose was Bailey.

In Wednesday games, Rotary will play Jaycees in the C league and Adco will take on Jaycees in the B league to decide the city championships.

Cecil Robinson Posts No-Hitter In Non-Pro Play

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Right-hander Cecil Robinson pitched a no-hitter Tuesday night as Greensboro, N.C., shut out Nassau, Bahamas, 10-0 in a first round game of the National Non-Pro baseball tournament.

Only four men got on base against the 19-year-old Robinson in the 9-inning contest. He walked two, hit one batter with a pitched ball, and another reached base on an error.

In other games Tuesday night, all first round, West Point, Miss., posted a 2-0 shutout against Phoenix, Ariz., and Fairbanks, Alaska, defeated Trenton, N.J., 5-2.

Lamont Echois allowed Phoenix only five hits. Three stolen bases helped set up both Mississippi runs. Paul Griffith walked, stole second and third, and scored on an infield out in the first inning.

Pepper Thomas walked, stole second and went to third on a throwing error.

Today's schedule:

(Loser's Bracket)

2 p. m. — Phoenix, Ariz., vs. Decatur, Ala.

(Winner's Bracket)

5:15 p. m. — Eureka, Calif., vs. Gibsonton, Fla.

New Chance To Qualify For Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirteen athletes, including Jim Beatty, are getting an unprecedented second chance to make the Olympic track and field team.

The athletes, including seven track men and six field event specialists, were passed into the final Olympic trials, to be held Sept. 12-13 in Los Angeles by a board composed of five members of the Olympic Track and Field Committee Tuesday.

This is the first time it has been possible for athletes to have a second chance to make the team after failing to qualify in the tryouts. The Olympic committee allowed appeals by those who felt their showing in the New York trials should not be considered a true test of their capabilities. Others were injured and didn't compete in New York.

A total of 48 athletes made written appeals, although a complete list was not disclosed.

Beatty, of Los Angeles, was the most prominent of the athletes advanced. The former world record holder for the indoor mile, withdrew from the 5,000-meter race in the New York trials with a leg cramp, and has had a relatively poor outdoor season.

It was felt, however, that his 8:38 clocking in the two-miles earlier this year was an indication that he hasn't passed his peak.

Other athletes passed into the Los Angeles trials were Cliff Cushman, Air Force colonel and 1960 silver medalist at Rome, in the 400 meter hurdles; Bernie Rivers, New Mexico U. sophomore, 200 meters; Dave Archibald, San Diego, 400 meters; Ron Larrieu, Los Angeles and Dick Macy, Houston, 10,000 meters; Pat Traynor, Philadelphia, 3,000-meter steeplechase; Bob Humphreys, Pasadena, discus throw; Bill Floerke, Kansas, and Les Tipton, Oregon, javelin throw; Jim Pride, Iowa, hammer throw; and Ken Flercke, Kansas, and Norm Tate, North Carolina College, triple jump.

Ohio River freight traffic amounts to more than 80 million tons annually.

HUSKY WHITE CAT — W. L. (Leonard) Sanders, Route 2, Stover, caught this 73-pound white catfish on a trotline while fishing the Little Buffalo at Highwater Beach in late July. The big cat bit on cut bait. The fish was 54 inches in length, but was not a record for Sanders who is a trotline fishing veteran. Several years ago he hauled in an 82-pound catfish.

Ecuador 4F Chief Speaks At Rotary

Washington Naranjo, national supervisor of 4F Clubs in Ecuador, South America, gave a talk illustrated with colored slides of the educational work with the youth of his country which is being done by 4F leaders, before Rotary Club members Monday.

The 4F clubs of Ecuador correspond with the 4H Clubs of America, and the work is primarily concerned with rural youth.
